Brentwood-based Morris, Smith and Hayden Wealth Managers Announce Business Expansion into the Alabama Market

BRENTWOOD, Tenn. (09-28-10) – Morris, Smith and Hayden, Wealth Managers based in Brentwood, Tennessee, announce the expansion of their business into the state of Alabama. The expansion accompanies their current Tennessee-based operations.

The announcement comes directly after the hiring of Keith Richardson as its Alabama-based Vice President of Marketing, and of Mark Taylor as the firm's new Marketing Director. The announcement and new staff are clear indications of the firm's commitment to growth, while still providing excellent customer service to its expanding customer base. The addition of the Alabama market will include the entire state, and include both rural and metropolitan areas.

Even with the growth, Managing Director Christopher Hayden assures Morris, Smith and Hayden's hands-on business approach will remain very much the same. "Clients can continue to expect our very personable level of service, and our boutique team approach will only improve," Morris states. "Clients want to know their assets are wisely invested, and never forgotten. Our team approach allows us to focus on fewer clients, and maintain our goal of high quality account monitoring for every portfolio," he added.

As Morris, Smith and Hayden's customer base expands, there's been an accompanying appreciation for the firm's affable approach. Judith Looney, Human Resources Director for Tennessee's Williamson County Schools said, "Since being introduced, I've been impressed with their team's enthusiasm and ability to locate the right solutions for our organization, teachers, and other employees." Another positive testimonial comes from Oak Hill, Tennessee Mayor Austin McMullen. He said, "The City of Oak Hill will continue to use Morris, Smith and Hayden to manage its reserve fund, and I highly recommend them based on their extensive knowledge, integrity, and personable service."
